

A Very "Cool Tub"

Contributed by Marc Lewis
Monday, 09 July 2007
Last Updated Monday, 20 August 2007

Just a quick reminder that the summer months are now upon us. Not always is a hot tub about heat! Yes that's right it can be a place of cooling after those blistering days. It's as simple as turning the heat down, opening the cover and/or placing a large block of ice in there for a relaxing evening cool down. Imagine the warm night air under the serene beauty of a star lit night while relaxing in soothing cool water. Yes cool water therapy can be as much fun as hot. So what are you still doing here get that block of ice.

Marc Lewis

Thermospas Technician So. Cal.